Dear Eric:

Would you be kind enough to comment on the nature of the enclosed Xeroxed piece. It would seem to be a Bearer note but has a look of an "Imlay" Certificate (Eagle device). Could this be an unissued remainder of an unknown note? Hope to hear from you soon.

Best regards,

Dana Linett

Dear Dana

The #10 July 4, 1776 Comptroller General note was studied by me some years ago. While my comments are I cannot remember off hand but I discussed the matter with Dick Peck and others.

The piece is naturally suspect because there is no authorization for it by the Continental Congress. Bailey did not come from Lancaster to Philadelphia until 1778 and was not appointed official printer to the Continental Congress until 1781. I do not know of the position of Comptroller General in 1776 so that requires search to find out.

The strongest point against authenticity is that the Continental Congress on September 9, 1776 authorized a change from the name United Colonies to United States of America on references to the national government. This turning is clearly evident on the Continental Currency.

Anderson does not list the item, but please check that in his fiscal paper book.

You did not describe the paper on which the note was printed. Does that help in the query?

You ought to be able to draw your own conclusion from these and other facts. I hope I have been helpful.

Thanks for the photocopy of the Church money.
Kind regards,

Dear Eric:

Thank you for acknowledging that at least someone reads our mailers. I have been removing our references in the computer and in newly described material as per your prior information. The two Fugio Cent listings in our ad were apparently a transferal from an old computer inventory file.

I will be coming out to St. Louis in conjunction with the shows and auction we are conducting October 17-19, 1991. I would love the opportunity to review the Colonials in your collection should you be at all available during that week. I look forward to one day coordinating our schedules so as to allow the enjoyment of such an pleasurable meeting.

Best regards,

Dana Linett

Dear Mr. Newman:

Enclosed are xeroxes of three notes which to my knowledge are unlisted in your book on early paper money. I thought you would be interested to see these, so that they might be listed in future editions.

I hope I get a chance to visit with you in St. Louis during October since I will be there in for the auction we are currently putting together.

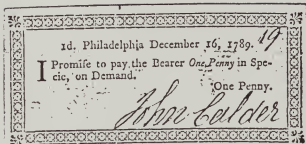

Please let me know what you think.

Best regards,

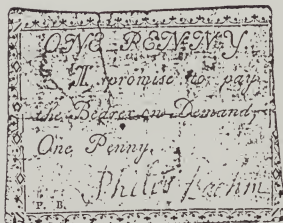

Dana Linett
